

Business Email Compromise [BEC]

Looks Legit? Check Again

Business Email Compromise (BEC) is a targeted scam where attackers hijack or impersonate trusted business email accounts to trick employees into urgently sending money or sensitive information—often posing as senior executives, vendors or business partners.

Pause on urgent emails:
Urgency is a common scam tactic.

Don't click or download blindly:
Unexpected links or files can be traps.

Verify before acting:
Confirm requests via a call or chat—not email replies.
